Source: Morningstar, Momentum Global Investment Management Limited, Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Guernsey) Limited. Past performance is not indicative of future returns. The Fund performance is calculated on a total return basis, net of all fees and in US dollar terms. NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. This allows investors to compare returns of different assets that they have owned for different lengths of time. Actual annual figures are available to investors upon request. Manager commentary

- » The first quarter of 2025 marked the beginning of a new era, both geopolitically, as the Trump administration reshapes the global order, and economically, with nationalism replacing globalisation. Trump 2.0's sweeping policy changes – tariffs, deregulation, and protectionism – have heightened uncertainty, damaging consumer and business confidence and raising recession fears. March's market performance reflected this growing unease.
- » A wave of new tariffs and escalating trade tensions have weighed on investor sentiment, while the US has reinforced its focus on China as its primary geopolitical adversary. European allies face mounting pressure to increase defence spending, with Germany taking extraordinary steps to loosen fiscal constraints and fund military expansion.
- » Equity markets saw increased volatility amid these shifts. The combination of tariff uncertainty and concerns over US AI competitiveness extended the sell-off in megacap tech. The MSCI World index declined -4.5% in March, with the 'Magnificent 7' falling -9.7%. The S&P 500 dropped -5.7%, erasing year-to-date gains. Chinese equities continued to rally, with MSCI China up 2.0% in March and 15% YTD, as policy easing, regulatory support, and AI optimism boosted sentiment.
- » The global bond market provided mixed signals. US Treasuries acted as a safe haven, with 10-year yields falling to 4.20%, reflecting heightened US economic concerns. European bond yields, however, moved higher as expectations of increased borrowing for defence and infrastructure materialised. German 10-year yields rose to 2.74%, as fiscal stimulus plans boosted growth expectations.
- » Currency markets saw the dollar weaken, reversing much of its post-election gains. The euro appreciated 4.3% in March, while GBP rose 2.7%, reflecting a reassessment of US economic prospects. Meanwhile, gold continued its strength, rising by 9.3% in March, demonstrating its value as a hedge against geopolitical risk and inflation uncertainty.
- » Recent tariff announcements have introduced significant downside risks to global growth. President Trump's 'Liberation Day' tariffs, including 25% levies on non-US automobiles and escalating duties on key imports, raise the spectre of further trade disruptions. Early estimates suggest a potential 1-1.5% drag on global GDP, though the full impact remains uncertain and will depend on retaliatory actions from affected nations.
- » As markets navigate this complex environment, volatility is likely to persist. While tactical opportunities may emerge, caution remains warranted. We continue to emphasise diversification across and within asset classes, balancing risk exposure while seeking attractive entry points amid market dislocations.

Total Expense Ratio (TER) [†]	1.41%
Financial year-end TER [†]	1.40%

[†] The TERs are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 31.12.24 is based on data for the period from 31.12.23 to 31.12.24 and the financial year-end TER is based on data for the financial year-end to 30.06.24. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

Risk warnings and Important Information. Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund. Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested. The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives. The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the funds' dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Fund is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment. Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
